

Time: Tuesday afternoons 15.00-16.00

Venue: Zoom (hopefully live seminars later on)

Link: <https://utu.zoom.us/s/64653745732>

Tue 19.10.2021

Early psychosocial environment and parental caretaking behavior: influences on later neurocognitive development

15.00 Amanda Nurmi, PhD student (LASERI): The associations of childhood psychosocial environment with cognitive function in midlife

15.30 Eeva Holmberg, PhD student (FinnBrain): From mice to men: Predictability of maternal caretaking behavior shapes offspring neurocognitive development

Tue 16.11.2021

Focus on physical activity

15.00 Miia Lehtovirta, PhD student (STRIP): Physical activity and metabolic profile – the STRIP Study

15.30 Kristin Suorsa, post doc (FIREA): Changes in the 24-hour movement behaviors during the transition to retirement: compositional data analysis

Thu 14.12.2021

Infancy and early childhood: biomarkers for health and disease

15.00 Mirkka Lahdenperä, adjunct professor (HKA): Human milk oligosaccharides (HMOs) and associations with physical living environment

15.30 Jorma Toppari, professor (DIPP): Growth and the risk for type 1 diabetes-related autoimmunity