

Turku institute for Advanced Studies, TIAS
Annual Report 2010 & 2011

Turku Institute for Advanced Studies, TIAS

The Turku Institute for Advanced Studies, TIAS, was launched with funding from the Consortium comprising the University of Turku and Turku School of Economics. The goal has been to establish TIAS as an integral, and growing part of the University of Turku. TIAS receives its main funding from the University of Turku. Further substantial funding has been provided by the University Foundation of Turku and the Foundation for Economic Education.

The purpose of the Turku Institute for Advanced Studies is to promote cutting-edge university research in the humanities and social sciences. This includes studies in the arts and literature, business studies, cultural studies, economics, education, human geography, history, law, linguistics, languages, philosophy, political science, psychology, logopedics, social policy, social work, sociology and research methodology, and their equivalents.

TIAS selects its researchers through an international competition, which is open to all researchers in the respective fields. Researchers at TIAS work in a research environment of a high international standard. The Board for TIAS selects applicants on the basis of an evaluation by external experts. In the selection process, particular attention is paid to the quality of the candidates' research proposal. The researchers are appointed for fixed-term positions at the University of Turku. Teaching activities comprise five percent of their annual work load of 1600 hours. The TIAS appoints scholars from junior Postdoctoral Researchers to senior Collegium Researchers.

The new three-year period starts in 2012. During the application round in 2011, during which the applications were subjected to a strict international evaluation, TIAS received 126 high quality applications to its 10 positions. Of these applications, 19 were submitted by researchers with their affiliation outside Finland.

TIAS Board

The Board for TIAS is responsible for the strategic planning of the collegium, follow up the financial situation of TIAS, organising the application and review process as well as other TIAS activities. The Board selects applicants on the basis of an evaluation by external professor level experts.

The TIAS Board:

- Professor Marja Vauras (chair, part-time research leader), Faculty of Education, University of Turku
- Professor Eija Suomela-Salmi, Faculty of Humanities, University of Turku (vice-chair)
- Professor Markus Granlund, Turku School of Economics, University of Turku
- Professor Heikki Hämäläinen, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Turku
- Professor Joel Kivirauma, Faculty of Education, University of Turku
- Professor Auvo Kostiainen, Faculty of Humanities, University of Turku
- Academy Professor Anne Kovalainen, Turku School of Economics, University of Turku
- Professor Jukka Mähönen, Faculty of Law, University of Turku
- Professor Veli-Matti Ritakallio, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Turku
- Professor Veli-Pekka Viljanen, Faculty of Law, University of Turku

The Board held six meetings in 2010 and further six 2011. TIAS has also a part-time coordinator who works as the secretary of the board, participates in the TIAS researcher meetings and organises the seminars with the researchers. The first TIAS coordinator was Docent Ulla Hytti followed in November 2010 by Phil. Lic. Kimi Kärki.

Collegium Researchers: The purpose is to offer researchers an opportunity to develop the competence required for the most demanding research posts or other expert positions after the postdoctoral research stage. The requirements for the post of Collegium Researcher include successful postdoctoral publishing and other scientific work. Researchers are expected to have ambitious research plans aimed at scientific breakthrough. During 2010 and 2011, TIAS had five Collegium Researchers:

Mika Kallioinen, School of History, Culture and Arts Studies (Finnish History), University of Turku, mika.kallioinen[at]utu.fi
Medieval Trade and Institutions. The Northern Baltic, ca. 1360-1590.

Lydia Kokkola, School of Languages and Translation Studies (English), University of Turku, lydia.kokkola [at] utu.fi
Silence and Sexuality: Reticent Responses to Adolescent Sexuality

Pekka Länsineva, Faculty of Law, University of Turku, pekklan[at]utu.fi
Fundamental Rights and Private Power

Timo Ruusuvirta, Department of Behavioural Sciences and Philosophy (Psychology), University of Turku, timo.ruusuvirta[at]utu.fi
Representation of Number in Automatic Audition

Taina Syrjämaa, School of History, Culture and Arts Studies (General History), University of Turku, taisyr[at]utu.fi Since August 2011, Professor of General History, University of Turku.
Consuming Foreignness. Another side of the construction of Finnishness.

Postdoctoral Researchers: The purpose is to advance the professional competence of researchers who have recently been awarded their doctorates in line with their submitted Research Plan. Applicants should have gained their doctoral degree a maximum of five years before the expiry of the application deadline. During 2010 and 2011, TIAS had five postdoctoral Researchers:

Suvi Keskinen, Department of Social Research (Sociology), University of Turku, suvi.keskinen[at]utu.fi
Gender, Ethnicity and Discourses of Violence in Families

Maarit Leskelä-Kärki, School of History, Culture and Arts Studies (Cultural History), University of Turku, maales[at]utu.fi
Professionals in writing. The gendered tradition of biographical writing in the texts of Helena Westermarck, Helmi Krohn and Tyyni Tuulio, 1900-1980

Kätlin Peets, Department of Behavioural Sciences and Philosophy (Psychology), University of Turku, kapeet[at]utu.fi Since September 2011, Post Doctoral Researcher, the Academy of Finland
Socio-cognitive and emotional mechanisms underlying positive and negative dyadic relationships

Piia Seppänen, Department of Education, University of Turku

TIAS activities

The TIAS researchers organise joint lunches and research seminars on a regular basis. The aim of these meetings is to engage in multidisciplinary discussion between the researchers and to identify areas of mutual interest. The meetings have also been an important forum for the TIAS researchers to discuss and reflect upon both philosophical and pragmatic issues with regard to conducting research and operating in the new TIAS community. TIAS researchers held ten such meetings in 2010 and ten in 2011.

The variety of the TIAS activities ranges from these closed meetings to public seminars directed for all high level researchers in the cross-disciplinary and critical manner. During 2010 and 2011, special emphasis has been given for research seminars which deal with both methodological issues and the realities of high quality research clusters.

The TIAS researchers have contributed to different research activities including publications, organization of and presentations in scientific and other seminars and conferences as well as networking activities including research visits to international universities. The researchers have also contributed to teaching and supervising of theses. Two projects funded by Academy of Finland have been led by TIAS researchers during the period (Lydia Kokkola 400.000 euros and Pekka Lämsineva 550.000 euros). The TIAS researchers have also been active in contributing to the societal influence of the university by giving statements to governmental bodies and giving virtual and live presentations to the general public. Three of the Collegium Researchers (Lydia Kokkola, Pekka Lämsineva, and Taina Syrjämaa) are or will be Professors after their TIAS period.

Public seminars

Research Funding, Networking & Innovations seminar was organised together with TCSM-collegium on 10th of March, 2010. The presentations were given by Pekka Karp (Deputy Head of Unit, European Commission, DG Information Society and Media, Future and Emerging Technologies – Proactive), Maija Hakkarainen (Senior EU R&D Adviser, Finnish Secretariat for EU R&D), Timo Huttunen (Technology Transfer Specialist, Turku Science Park), Sirpa Nuotio (Senior Adviser, Academy of Finland), and Professor Jukka Westermarck (Turku Centre for Biotechnology). The presented topics included: How to enrich and disrupt technology with new science; Basic research and innovation in the extended context; Funding and networking opportunities within the EU's 7th Framework Programme; Enterprise Europe Network and Technology Collaboration; New opportunities and emphases in funding in the Academy of Finland.

Education for Collegium Researchers (TIAS & TCSM) full day follow-up workshop was arranged 11th of March, 2010 in Hirvilampi. The presentations were given and discussions governed by Jyrki Heino, Pirjo Nuutila, Hannu Nurmi and Mika Scheinin. The topics covered: Research funding, networking & innovations; The future of doctoral studies; Recruiting and guiding doctoral students; Leading a research group; group dynamics; Research ethics in the era of publish or perish.

The TIAS Annual Seminar was organised on 3rd June 2010 under the theme Future Challenges for Social Sciences and Humanities. The Keynote Speakers included Professor Björn Wittrock from the Swedish Collegium for Advanced Study in Uppsala, Sweden and the two Academy Professors appointed in the beginning of 2010 at the University of Turku: Professor Anne Kovalainen and Professor Erno Lehtinen.

TIAS Networking Event for the Researchers in the University of Turku was organised on 30th of November, 2010. The purpose was to invite Academy Research Fellows, Academy Post-doctoral researchers and other researchers in similar positions at the University of Turku in the disciplines represented by TIAS to a networking event, to present and discuss research projects and seek mutual research interests between the participants. In addition, the event aimed to contribute to the development of useful forms of networking between the researchers and advancing their research work at the University of Turku.

TIAS and TCSM arranged a seminar Turbocharge your writing on Friday the 17th December, 2010. The seminar keynote and governor was Hugh Kearns from Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia. He presented clear and practical strategies to increase writing productivity. The seminar was aimed at young research group leaders and young independent scientists.

TIAS and TCSM organised also the annual seminar Collaborations: Project Management and Business Relations in the 19th September, 2011. Keynotes were given by Professor Niina Nummela, Vice Rector Harri Lönnberg, and Director Aki Koponen. The topics covered: Experiences and reflections on research project management and collaboration with industry; Science push or technology pull; Industry collaboration – benefits and challenges for academic research.

Especially during 2011 TIAS researchers concentrated on writing and completing their academic duties in various international research networks, expert positions and editorial duties. These networks include for example MigraNord, DEMDI, Postkolonial Feminism (Vetenskapsrådet, 2010-2011), Gendering Asia (Nordforsk 2010-2013), Research Network on Nordic Populism (NOPO), Generations, Multiculturalism and Nordic Identity, PALMU, TheoryNord, COST Action IS0901 (Women Writers in History), European Network for the Theory and Practice on Biography, the Finnish Parliament Committee for Constitutional Law, European Commission: Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency, German Research Foundation, Institutum Romanum Finlandiae, Network for Research on Multiculturalism and Societal Interaction (University of Turku). Editorial and review board positions included f. ex. International Research in Children's Literature, The World Journal of Education, Neuroimage, and Acta Psychologica Fennica (series A). The TIAS Researchers have also been teaching actively in their departments and elsewhere, and supervised a large number of academic works.

The publishing record of TIAS researchers is listed below. The articles still waiting for publication are not listed, but their number is equally notable. In order to briefly summarise the printed publications by TIAS Researchers from the last two years:
