

Leadership in Public Sector, is it different?

No	Yes
 People are the same everywher The world around us with changing phenomenas are the same Skills in leadership are needed, no matter where you work 	 Time scale is different Public intrerest, "our money" is stronger Demand is bigger than ability to deliver Politics Salary: salaries are open to everyone, and elements of rewarding are rare Strong sence of meaning Size quite often Difficult to bring up the future talent

What do you have to be prepared for here?

- Two-level decision-making demands huble attitude and resilience
- Lack of money is even more consistent
- It takes time to make something happen
- We have had the cruel publicity always now that has reached private sector too
- Though our staff is very highly educated and committed, public opinion considers us "less qualified" and lazy – motivation and sense of appreciation needs work
- Though the perspective is very long the direction may slightly change every fourth year
- You can't compensate bad leadership with money
- It is worth it!!!

The Coldest city in Finland.

Don't look back – we are not going there
