

CIDI 25 ECTS

Clinical Instruments for Evaluating Health - Development, Evaluation and Implementation
at the Department of Nursing Science, University of Turku, Finland

MODULE I
8.-16.1.2024

Concept of instrument
Concept of measurement
Measuring health
Different types of instruments

MODULE II
17.1.-3.3.2024

Defining a clinical problem and concept analysis
Methods for locating existing instruments
Questionnaire design and pilot testing
Validity and reliability testing
Modification and equivalence

MODULE III
4.3.-7.5.2024

How to use an instrument?
Scientific usability of an instrument
Practical usability of an instrument
Economic evaluation of an instrument and its usability

Responsible teachers

Professor
Minna Stolt

Professor
Riitta Suhonen

Clinical Instruments for Evaluating Health - Development, Evaluation and Implementation

Module I January 8th - 16th 2024

Contact teaching in Turku January 15th - 16th
Independent reading January 8th - 14th

Module II January 17th - March 3rd 2024

Contact teaching in Turku January 17th - 19th
Independent working

Module III March 4th - May 7th 2024

Asynchronized online lectures and written assignments March 4th - 31st
Independent working and reading April 1st - May 5th
Online seminars May 6th - 7th

Target groups

Master and PhD students in nursing and health sciences and Advanced Practice Nurses

Persons in charge

Professor Riitta Suhonen &
Professor Minna Stolt

UNIVERSITY OF TURKU

APPLY NOW

Application deadline
November 26th 2023 at <https://ty.fi/cidi2024>

Contact details
University of Turku
Department of Nursing Science
FI-20014 University of Turku
Email: intnurse@utu.fi

utu.fi/nursingscience