Course registration at TSE

- Remember to register for all of your courses on Peppi!
 - Course registration for Period I: 17 – 26 Aug 2026
 - Course registration for Period II: 5 – 18 Oct 2026
- Make sure to attend the first lecture of a course to secure your place.
- You can register to courses from different TSE departments and also from other faculties with some restrictions.
- NB! If you plan to take courses organised by other HEIs, first check with your home university, if this is ok.
- More info and detailed instructions on course registration can be found from the presentation of the Incoming team
- More on studies at TSE here!

Exam registration

- Check exam.utu.fi and peppi.utu.fi for the exam dates! If the dates aren't available, the teacher will give them at the start of the course
- Exams mostly as e-Exams in exam.utu.fi > Book any time during the exam period
- Rare: "classic lecture hall exams" > Register 7 days before the examination in Peppi
- More info about exams and detailed instructions can be found from Incoming team presentation

Writing your assignments

- On UTU Intranet you can find template and guides for writing your assignments, essays, and reports at TSE.
- Every TSE student must familiarize themselves with Guidelines for the Use of Artificial Intelligence in Theses at TSE (applicable to all written assignments)

Reports template

The following template can be used for writing reports consisting of several pages.
Please DO NOT use this template for theses:

What if...?

...I do not want to take a course I have registered for?

Let the teacher know! It's okay if the course is still in your Peppi enrollments.

... I want to take a course I have not registered for or the course is full?

Contact the teacher!

... the courses I have selected are held at the same time?

Maybe it is possible to do them both? Ask the teachers if you need to be present on all lectures.

What if...?

... the course I want is not in Peppi?

Check the Study Guide! In which period is the course organised? Is enrollment currently open? Is it a self-study course?

...I don't have enough courses? / I can't register to all the courses I want?

Could you take more self-study courses?

Could you take more courses in later periods?

Could you do studies of your home university?

If you are interested in some special field, contact the department/teachers of that field!

Consider taking courses from different faculties!

Finnish and Nordic Society and Culture

- Finnish and Nordic Society and Culture is a multidisciplinary non-degree programme that focuses on exploring the cultural, historical, political and social dimensions of Finnish and Nordic societies. It familiarizes students with contemporary history, political system, ethics of safety and well-being, social inequality and cultural practices and social institutions.
- Registration in Peppi or as stated in the study guide.
- Courses available during autumn:
 - Finland in Northern European Contemporary History, 5 ECTS
 - Ethics of Safety and Well-Being in the Nordic Society, 5 ECTS
 - Social Inequality (book exam), 5 ECTS
 - Contact: Ulla Morelli oposoc@utu.fi

European Studies

- European studies is composed of compulsory courses and additional courses, which are announced annually. The studies explore EU and European studies from various historical, political, economic, ideological and theoretical perspectives.
- Lecture courses and independent study options.
- Courses available during autumn:
 - Approaches to Global and Regional Studies, 5 ECTS
 - European Studies Essay, 5 ECTS
 - European Integration Exam, 5 ECTS
- Registration: Please see the study guide for further information.
- Contact: Mika Suonpää, misuon@utu.fi

North American Studies

- North American Studies (NAMS) is a joint program within Social Sciences and Humanities. Organized by the John Morton Center for North American Studies and the Department of English, the program offers an exciting transdisciplinary and multi-methodological approach to the study of North America.
- The North American Studies program provides students with an opportunity to assess from a variety of perspectives the societies, cultures, and politics of North American nations, communities, and phenomena.
- Most of the lecture courses in the North American Studies curriculum are taught in the autumn.
- The list of courses: North American Studies, 2024-2027 | Opinto-opas 2024-2027
- Registration: See Peppi study register and the study guide for details regarding registration policies of individual courses and independent studies.
- Contact: Janne Korkka, Dept. of English (jkorkka@utu.fi)

East Asian Studies

- The Minor in East Asian Studies programme provides a comprehensive introduction to the contemporary history and societies of East Asia on general issues of East Asia as well as particularities of the three major East Asian societies and states. In addition, the programme includes one language course (Chinese, Japanese, or Korean).
- Courses available during autumn:
 - Contemporary East Asia Book Exam for International Students, 3 ECTS
 - East Asian News Media, 3 ECTS
 - Korean Contemporary History and Society, 5 ECTS
- Sign-up in Peppi if not mentioned otherwise.
- Contact: Tuula Karjalainen, tuusah@utu.fi

ASIANET

- The Asian Programme is an interdisciplinary Bachelor's and Master's level study programme which provides students with basic knowledge of Asia. For students whose study or career plans relate to Asia, this programme provides a good introduction to the region.
- Sign-up Application guidelines and the application form in <http://www.asianet.fi>
- Available courses here and here.
